Upholds Seven Standards of War-Time Agreement of Railroads and Unions With One Exception

DECLARES AGAINST OVERTIME FOR SUNDAYS AND HOLIDAYS

One of Union Officials in Minority Report Demands Rules Without Change

CHICAGO, Ill.—The United States railroad labor board Friday approved in effect the seven shop craft rules relating to overtime payment as provided in the national agreement of the wartime railroad administration but directed that the railroad need not pay overtime for absolutely necessary work performed on Sundays and holidays.

For the first time in the history of the board a minority member made public a dissenting report. A. W. Eflon, former president of the railroad division of the American Federation of Labor, insisted on recognition of the national agreement rules without change.

The majority report was signed by Judge R. M. Barton, and five other members, two of whom represent the public, two the roads and one the unions.

LITVINOFF AGREES TO TERMS FOR RELIEF IN RED RUSSIA STIPULATED BY MR. HOOVER

RIGA.—(By the Associated Press.)—Walter L. Brown for the United States and Maxim Litvinoff for Soviet Russia agreed Friday afternoon to sign Saturday the detailed contracts for American relief for the Russian famine on terms giving the Americans extreme freedom of movement and absolute control of food distribution.

WASHINGTON.—Negotiations between Walter L. Brown, European director of the American Relief administration, and M. Litvinoff, the Soviet representative have been practically completed, Mr. Hoover said, although it may be a day or two before the formal document is drawn. Preparations now are being made by the New York offices of the relief administration to start food ships to Danzig to begin sending famine supplies into Russia.

The original administration conditions for protection of its agents and control of food supplies have been agreed to by the Soviet authorities. Relief work will begin as soon as possible under the conditions of the original offer Mr. Hoover said.

Cholera Less on Volga

LONDON.—Famine is still ravaging the Volga districts of Russia but there is a decrease in the cholera epidemic there, says the Moscow correspondent for the Daily Herald, during July 22,000 cases were reported against 42,000 in June.

The Russian Soviet government has appropriated $2,000,000 rubles for the initial expenses of the relief committee and has also decided to levy a tax of one pound per head (36 pounds) on goods traded in the free food markets, the correspondent adds.

Trades union machinery is being utilized to transfer the starving from the famine area to more prosperous districts where they can be employed. Free transit of relief materials is being permitted everywhere in Russia.

Free Hand for Quakers

PHILADELPHIA.—American Quakers will be permitted by the Soviet government to send an unlimited number of workers into Russia to give relief to the millions of needy there, the American Friends' Service Committee was notified Friday from Arthur Watts, its representative in Moscow. This action will allow the Friends to increase their workers in Russia and to begin on a large scale the relief of famine conditions. The Quakers have had two representatives in Moscow and in one year have distributed more than $600,000 worth of food and supplies.

The Friends will be the distributors in Russia for the funds of the Jewish joint distribution committee and also of the All-American Fund for Russian relief, now being raised in the United States.

GERMAN PREMIER SEEKS UNITY ON U. S. PEACE PACT

Trying to Get Backing of all Parties for Negotiation of Treaty

WOULD STEER CLEAR OF LATE WAR DIFFICULTIES

Fears U-boat and Diplomatic Policies May be Dragged in BERLIN.—Chancellor Wirth is endeavoring to secure the support of all political factions represented in the reichstag for his plans looking to the negotiations of a treaty of peace with the United States of an important nature have been held during the past few days.

Fears are expressed that the German-American war diplomacy and the submarine policy which brought about American intervention in the war will again be dragged forth by those who seek to exploit them for partisan purposes. It is for the purpose of obviating such a situation that chancellor Wirth is laboring to obtain an agreement by all parties which will result in minimizing, if not wholly eliminating debate in the preliminary session.

New names are being mentioned as possible appointees to the ambassadorship to the United States. Among those most recently brought forward is Professor Gerhard von Schulze-Gaevernitz, who occupies the chair of political economy at Freiburg university.

OFFERS JACK-ASS ON TRADE IN USED CAR SALE AND SHOW

Unique Proposition Adds Comedy Relief to Brisk Business at Market Square
Hundreds of people continued on Friday to throng the Market Square used car show and sale, which opened Thursday in a "good house."

Doctors of every make and of all prices from lowly fluffers at about twice the price of a square meal to stately limousines running up to $2,000 stood cheek by jowl on the square, with their tires inflated, metal and paint polished, and generally with their best foot forward. The prices quoted according to wise auto men, were in numerous instances genuine bargains, and there was brisk business on the square.

There were many vacancies in the ranks of the show on Friday morning, marking where cars had been sold and driven home on Thursday, and more of them appeared during the morning.

A comic feature was added to the exhibition about noon on Friday when a man appeared with a diminutive burro, fully harnessed, and attempted to negotiate a trade with John Hofweber for a closed delivery truck that is in the sale. Hofweber failed to make a dicker, alleging that the prospect's half-horse-power model was too obsolete to have a market value. Another dealer offered the visitor $10, cash, for the jack-ass, and the owner indignantly withdrew.

SENATE CUTS OFF QUARTER OF FUND FOR U. S. ROAD AID

HOME SANCTITY HELD REEF TO WRECK THE ANTI-BEER MEASURE

Support of Stanley Amendment in Senate Clouds Hope of Passage Before Recess

VOLSTEAD WILLING TO ACCEPT A COMPROMISE

Fights Requirement of Warrant for Search of Autos

WASHINGTON, D. C.—There were conflicting reports as to the possibility of agreement on the anti-beer bill when senate and house conferees took up their work again Friday behind closed doors.

The Stanley senate amendment, described by those who framed it as merely a reaffirmation of the fourth and fifth amendments to the constitution to guarantee protection of the home, still stood as the rock against which the measure might be wrecked beyond hope of final enactment before the recess next week.

Representative Volstead, leader of the house managers, was said to be agreeable to a compromise on the Stanley proposal but unalterably opposed to its acceptance as a whole and determined to fight the requirement of warrants to search other property than homes, including automobiles.

Opposition in the senate to rejection or material amendment of the Stanley amendment, framed after nearly a score of senators, many of them temperance leaders, had been consulted, made it doubtful, members said, whether any anti-beer legislation could be passed until fall.

TABLE SCHEME TO GIVE WOOD ISLAND JOB AS GENERAL

WASHINGTON.—The administration bill designed to authorize Major General Wood to become governor of the Philippines without holding an office in the army was held in the table Friday by the house military committee without a record vote. Committee members were said to have held it would be a dangerous precedent to establish.

Practically all committee members were reported to have favored tabling the measure which makes it certain that the bill will not come to a vote in the house.

No criticism of General Wood was expressed at the committee session, it was said. Members agreeing that he would make an excellent governor should be accepted President Harding's offer. The opinion was reported to be equally general, however, that it would be a dangerous precedent to permit army officers without resigning their commissions to accept civilian posts.

G. B. S. SAYS HE'S NO MARTYR; WON'T VISIT THIS COUNTRY

NEW YORK.—George Bernard Shaw, in reply to a letter to Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of the Nation, in which the writer was asked if he intended visiting the United States, said:

"I have no intention of going to prison with Debs or taking my wife to Texas, where mobs snatch white women from out of hotel verandas and tar and feather them."
"If I were dependent upon martyrdom for a reputation, which happily I am not, I could go to Ireland. It is a less dangerous place, but then the voyage is shorter and much cheaper."
"You are right in your impression that a number of persons are urging me to come to the United States. But why on earth do you call them my friends?"

COMMITTEE MAKES SIXTY CHANGES IN G. O. P. TAX PLANS

Taxes on Proprietary Medicine Eliminated; Near-Beer Levy Reduced One-third

SENATE TO SIDETRACK TARIFF BILL FOR TAXES

Expect Final Vote in House Saturday Afternoon

WASHINGTON.—Elimination of taxes on proprietary medicines was agreed upon Friday by the house ways and means committee which approved more than sixty changes in the republican tax bill.

Subsequently the majority members of the committee voted to reduce the tax on cereal beverages from the proposed six cents a gallon to four cents and bring fire and marine insurance companies under the 12 1/2 per cent corporation income tax on the same basis as life insurance companies.

Put Limit on Debate

Amendments to the tax revision bill were taken up in the house after Thursday's debate. Several proposed by republican members of the ways and means committee being given priority in consideration.

Under the agreement all amendments will be submitted through the committee.

Discussion of amendments was under five minute limitation following the conclusion of general debate Thursday night.

Senate to Act Soon

The senate finance committee probably will turn its attention to the revenue bill as soon as that measure is passed by the house, sidetracking the tariff bill in the meantime, according to Senator Penrose, committee chairman.

The committee will decide the question as soon as the house acts, Penrose said.

FINANCIER PROJECTS PRIVATE TOLL MOTOR ROAD TO WISCONSIN

Would Have Six Parallel Concrete Roadbeds for Passengers and Freight

CHICAGO.—Alfred E. Case of Channel Lake, Illinois, president of Case, Boyd and Company of Chicago, announced today that he is having plans drawn for a private automobile highway 20 feet wide connecting Chicago and Milwaukee with branch highways to the Wisconsin Lakes country.

Mr. Case's plan calls for six beds of concrete surfaced with asphalt with all vehicles on each road moving in the same direction.

Two of the roads would be used for passenger business service, on an express schedule; two operated as toll roads for private passenger cars and two as freight roads.

A $5,000,000 company has been organized Mr. Case said with an authorized bond issue of $10,000,000. "The highway will be elevated over all country roads and railroads," his announcement says. "Electric lighted, lined with trees, shrubs and flowers for the most beautiful drives in the world and fully protected by armed guards in order to insure the public from highwaymen."

FIRST INDIAN WHO FELL IN WORLD WAR GIVEN TRIBAL HONOR

Church also Has Part in Rites at Opening of Sioux Episcopal Convocation

WINNER, S. D.—Followed by five thousand Christian Indians including three thousand of his Sioux tribesmen, the body of Private Chauncey Eaglehorn, the A. E. F. first Indian slain in the great war, was yesterday carried to a hill-side overlooking the grove in which the great convocation of red men marking the centennial of the missionary society of the Episcopal church in the United States is being held, and buried with all the ceremony of church and tribe combined.

Eaglehorn was not only the first Indian but the first man from South Dakota to be killed in action in the late war. He received the Croix de Guerre from the French government for gallantry.

The convocation was formally opened Friday by the Reverend Hugh L. Burleson, missionary bishop of the district. For the past four days Indians have been gathering at Winner, numbers of them journeying for miles across the prairies in motor cars "schooters" and on horse-back.

NO FURTHER CONCESSIONS DECLARES LLOYD GEORGE IN DISCUSSING IRELAND

LLOYD GEORGE OUT FOR HOME RULE IN WELSH LOCALITIES

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—An announcement in favor of Welsh home rule was made by Premier Lloyd George, says the Liverpool Post Friday, at a dinner of Welsh Nationalists. He pledged himself, according to the newspaper, to support a measure of Welsh devolution if such were agreed upon by the Welsh members of parliament.

The home rule favored by the Welsh nationalists means a greater degree of local self government.

DAIL HOLDS REPLY TO CONSIDER WORDS OF BRITISH CHIEFS

Delay Consideration of British Offer Until Monday to Digest Premier's Talk

MAY START NEW MOVE TO CONCILIATE ULSTER

Delay Encourages Hopeful to Expect Moderate Reply

DUBLIN.—By The Associated Press.—Sinn Fein leaders Friday centered attention on the station of the Irish negotiations by Premier Lloyd George in the house of commons and the government's reply in the house of lords to the recent invitation by the Marquis of Salisbury for an official out-giving on this subject. Meanwhile the deputies were engaged in committee work on Irish international affairs.

The fact that Dail put off discussion of the reply to the British premier's peace offer until Monday was indicated to be due to the expectation that Lloyd-George would say something meaningful or possibly that some move would be made to induce Ulster to join forces with the south.

There are pessimistically inclined quarters which give expression to the view that the Dail is taking advantage of the opportunity to get rid of its necessary business in the open before an end of the truce.

Up to Parliament
Settlement of the Irish problem, or measures to be taken in case the Irish republican leaders break off negotiations with British government may possibly be laid before parliament prior to a final decision by Premier Lloyd-George and his ministry. This apparently was decided by the sudden change in plan to prorogue parliament Friday and the announcement that it had been decided merely to call a recess of two months before ending the present session.

Members of parliament were instructed to hold themselves in readiness to answer a call to London at any time before October 15 should developments in Ireland require the calling of a session.

The Irish republican parliament, which has been in session in Dublin and has apparently laid the ground for consideration of the British offer of dominion status, did not plan to meet Friday. Announcement was made Thursday at Dublin that Friday would be devoted to committee meetings and that it was believed formal debate on the British peace proposals might begin Saturday. The fact that the republican parliament deferred its reply to the British terms encouraged the hopeful in believing that the Dublin answer to Great Britain would not summarily break off negotiations and that settlement of the vexing Irish question within a reasonably brief period was still possible.

EX-PREMIER RHALLYS OF GREECE IS DEAD

M. Rhallys although an octogenarian, had been active in Greek politics until recently, forming a ministry last fall in succession to Premier Venizelos after the latter's defeat.

SHARP FIGHTING IN MOROCCO

Spanish Report Heavy Skirmishes With Tribesmen Near Melilla

MADRID.—Serious fighting is taking place at Sidi Ameran, south of Melilla, according to an official statement issued here late Thursday night. It was said that there had been sharp fighting along the Spanish positions there and that reinforcements and provisions had been dispatched to the front.

The Moorish tribesmen have attacked Spanish positions at Cabo de Agua, near the frontier of French Algeria, the statement declaring that the Spanish forces there were under fire.

SAYS GOVERNMENT WILL NOT MOVE WITHOUT CONSENT

If Terms are Rejected Situation Will be Laid Before Parliament as to Next Step

SUGGESTS HOPE THAT OFFER WILL BE TAKEN

Says Ireland is Worried Whether Britain Means What it Says

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—The British government in its Irish peace offer had conceded everything it was possible to concede, premier Lloyd-George declared to the house of commons Friday in his statement on the Irish peace negotiations. It embodied the largest measure of freedom ever offered Ireland, he said and he hoped the Irish leaders would not reject it, "and take the responsibility of renewing a conflict which would be robbed of all glory and all gratitude by its overshadowing horror."

The prime minister's words were paralleled in the House of Lords by Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary, as to the government's offer having already come to the limit.

"I want to make it clear," continued the premier, "that the government did not put forth bargaining terms, but put forward everything they could possibly concede to purchase peace and the good will of the Irish people. In Ireland itself, so far as I can see, the doubt is not so much as to terms but as to whether the government really means them."

Would Work Out Details
"That is a question of working out the terms—of elucidation and elaboration, and not a changing of the terms. The outline cannot be altered or the basis changed."

"In view of the fact that the house is about to separate and the fact that very disquieting statements have been made and even of a few disquieting facts, we are bound as at present to take thought of all possible contingencies, however unpleasant they may be."

"The first is the possibility of an agreement in which case the details will have to be worked out, which will take time. There is always apt to be an atmosphere of suspicion surrounding relations between two countries—a suggestion of bad faith if there is a misunderstanding on the slightest particular."

It would thus be the duty of the executive, said the premier, to place a bill embodying the details and principles before the parliament for immediate action because delay is disastrous once an agreement is reached.

Refusal Means Worst Crisis
"I wish it was not necessary to deal with the other contingency, but we are bound to take notice of certain things which have been said. This contingency is that our terms are rejected."

"Were that misfortune to befall the relations between these two islands, whose history has been so full of such unfortunate incidents, we would be faced with a graver situation in regard to Ireland than that with which we have ever been confronted."

"Whatever these terms may accomplish and may have done there is one thing they have achieved. They have defined the issues, more clearly than ever before, and rejection would be an unmistakable challenge to the authority of the crown and the unity of the empire and no party in the state could possibly pass that over without notice."

"I am using no language of menace. That would be indeed folly. Where there are so many existing difficulties to use threatening language would be to aggravate old difficulties and create new ones."

Finally Up to Parliament

"If there is rejection, and final rejection beyond hope of negotiation, steps will undoubtedly have to be taken which the executive ought not and would not wish to take without first consulting parliament and giving it full opportunity of expressing approval or disapproval of any steps we might propose to take."

The minister explained the motion for house to meet Oct. 18 was for formal prorogation if the negotiations were proceeding satisfactorily. If the negotiations broke down and the position became hopeless, he added, the speaker was empowered after consultation with the government to summon parliament on forty-eight hours notice.

The executive, said the premier, would feel authorized to take any necessary urgency measures but would not, therefore, delay the summoning of parliament.

Strongly Desires of Peace

In concluding Mr. Lloyd George said: "The government is sincerely desirous that peace should be secured and that the long misunderstandings (Continued on page 112.)"

This is What We Want

PROFESSIONAL baseball never enjoyed more than a precarious existence in La Crosse, with a few occasional and temporary periods of prosperity. It died of inanition some years since, and for several years there was almost an utter separation between La Crosse and the national game. Yet in the last two years, and particularly this summer, there has been a spectacular resurrection of baseball in La Crosse. Crowds that on occasion would have been respectable turn-outs for major league contests, and that have continuously run into the thousands, have witnessed the games of both the Nelson and the La Crosse teams this summer. They have been enthusiastic crowds. The inevitable judgment of players, conflict of opinion and post-mortems on plays which mark the true zeal of the "fan" everywhere are heard again in this community. Whatever it has been in the last eight or ten years, there can be no doubt that La Crosse is now a "good baseball town." The support which the two local teams are given, indeed the very rivalry between the partisans of the one team and the other, are evidence enough.

One likes this recrudescence of baseball in the community all the better for the fact that it is all strictly a home-grown product. The enthusiasm of the men and women—and youngsters—for baseball this season has not been the mild interest of spectators watching paid experts perform, but the vital and personal absorption of a family in the prowess of its athletic sons. The boys for whom we root are not strangers from Halifax or Texas, but neighbors and friends. We go to their games not as exhibitions, but as genuine games—contests of skill and brains between our own young men and outsiders. If it is not "amateur" ball in the strained scholastic interpretation of the word, neither is it "professional" with the adjective's connotation of machine-like, perfunctory routine for money. No one who attends a game at Copeland Park can have any doubt that the biggest thing to the boys on the field is not the size of the gate receipts but to play good ball and win the coveted distinction and recognition of sportsmen and athletes. With professional baseball rocking under the shocking disgrace of such uncleanly scandals as were recently aired in Chicago, it is a relief to see honest, clean-handed baseball, played for the community by its own young men, so earnestly offered and so eagerly welcomed.

That this year's baseball success will prove but the beginning of a greater development we earnestly hope and believe. Perhaps the demonstration that La Crosse is a "good baseball town" will lead to more pretentious ventures next season in the way of an organized league, of the sort that apparently could easily be organized among the communities in the three states hereabouts. But if such a development does come, let us hope that baseball will not lose the peculiarly home-grown flavor which it now enjoys. It is this in chief, we believe, which has put baseball back into favor in La Crosse, after professionalism had worn out its welcome. Better the occasional roughness of honest amateur effort than the smooth precision and spiritless indifference of accomplished mercenaries. Better for La Crosse, and better for the game.

Courage

THE courage of men and women is great. It often surprises us, because in normal times incidents calling for heroism are rare, and displays called forth by sudden emergencies almost take one's breath.

Monday, in Milwaukee, a girl clerk battled two jewelry store robbers until knocked senseless with a pistol butt. An eighty-year-old woman risked her life by dashing by the robbers to give the alarm. A truck driver grappled with one of the fleeing robbers, and joined by a policeman, succeeded in capturing him in spite of the thief's heavy revolver. Meanwhile another detective walked up to the muzzle of a pistol in the hand of the other robber, who killed himself to escape arrest. Every member of this group showed dauntless courage in the presence of imminent peril of death. Two were policemen, paid and sworn to take the chance, but three were private individuals who could not have been blamed had they shirked the danger. They were just game people, that is all.

Tuesday night two Madison people discovered a dynamite bomb with a smoking fuse, set to blow up a building in which a man and his family were sleeping. One was an officer, the other was a private citizen. They seized the bomb and took it to the middle of the street. The officer extinguished the fuse, and also a newspaper in which the dynamite was wrapped. Had the thing exploded the remnants of the officer and his friend would have been too minute for identification.

This is courage, nerve. Officers have it. The ordinary run of people have it when responsibility comes. But it is none the less praiseworthy. It is one of the finest of human traits, and it should be encouraged. It seems odd that governments should have arranged means of recognizing and rewarding only the courage of soldiers, whose professional business it is to be courageous. Why not some mark of distinction for the citizen who in a civic emergency displays "unusual courage beyond the line of duty"?

Hughes' Opportunity

PRESIDENT HARDING has done the expected by appointing Secretary of State Hughes head of the American delegation to the Washington disarmament conference. It will probably be the verdict of the nation, irrespective of politics, that no wiser choice could have been made. This entirely apart from the fact that Hughes' position as cabinet premier made his appointment practically a foregone conclusion. Here is Hughes' chance for immortality. It is not too much to say that this conference has possibilities of developing into the most important international gathering in the world's history. Much will depend upon Hughes, who, as head of the delegation of the nation calling the conference, will undoubtedly be chosen as its presiding officer. Excepting Wilson, no such opportunity for world service and world fame has ever before come to an American.

When American hotels finish with the Japanese ambassador the Japs won't have enough money for a navy.

Since it costs more to mine gold than the product is worth, operators will probably start mining coal.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

After setting a mark that is close to the record for sudden summer rises the Mississippi river at this point yesterday registered a fall as startling as its recent rise. Rivermen attribute these sudden changes to the rising and falling of Root river which empties into the Mississippi a little south of here.

About two and a half miles of the road between La Crosse and Sparta, which is well known as one of the worst pieces of road in the country near La Crosse, have been fixed up temporarily for use the rest of the year. Sorghum stalks and straw have been laid on the worst spots. Auto owners of Sparta are financing the improvement.

The first fly trap placed by Dr. Furstman at Fourth and Main streets has proven so successful that the health officer has ordered another one. It will be placed on one of the downtown streets, probably Fifth and Main.

A strikingly beautiful astronomical phenomenon of very rare occurrence was witnessed by many people in La Crosse last night when from 10 o'clock until day-break the moon, Saturn and Mars were grouped.

Following the inspection of the Rose street viaduct by Leslie Van Hagan of the state railroad commission last Thursday, letters were today received by the street railway company, the C. M. & St. P. railway company and the city, which declared that the commission is of the opinion that the viaduct has about reached the end of its usefulness and that a new one must be built if the street cars are to be run over it.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The grocery trust formed in Philadelphia two weeks ago by consolidating 2,600 wholesale establishments in the United States, invited James J. Hogan of La Crosse to join but he would not even consider the proposal, saying he would rather close his doors than join the trust.

Prof. Kremer, director of the School of Pharmacy at the Wisconsin university, is spending a few days in La Crosse collecting objects for the historical department. He has called on every retail and wholesale druggist in the city and has secured many relics which he considers valuable. From T. H. Spence he secured an old shelf which Mr. Spence used back in the '70's.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

W. D. Cameron, manager of the Monroe Ink Braser Company, has purchased a home on Vine street from Mrs. Denison.

The firm of Lamb and Becker started a sulphur smudge in their fruit cellar this morning to kill off the flies. The sulphur took fire and made a big smoke which rolled out of the building in clouds. The damage was mostly from the smoke.

T. H. Spence has added another curiosity to his collection. It is an alligator which is preserved and occupies an erect position.

Several residents of State street have adopted a very pretty method of marking their places. From West Avenue east to the fair grounds the houses are all on elevated lots. These lots are all sodded down to the sidewalks and the names of the owners appear on the lawns in large letters formed by flowers or different colored grasses. The names of Sores, Brice and Sanford are already completed.

PRISCILLA TO THE RESCUE

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

"It's always the same way with you, Jane Crawford!" declared Jane's cousin Priscilla in tones of almost exasperation. "You set your heart on a thing and then once you get it—good night! You no longer care two pence about it!"

"Doubtless you're right, old dear," drawled Jane lazily from the cushiony depths of the couch hammock. "Not the achievement, but the achieving, is my joy! However, what's the immediate cause of your wrath?"

"Pinch, your Pelinee!" returned Priscilla tartly. "After wheedling him out of your long-suffering father, you've as much use for him as for the kitchen mop. The creature is far fonder of me because I give him his meals than of you, his own." "Get along with you, Priscilla!" and once suddenly indignantly sat up-right and flung a cushion at her cousin's fair head. Then stooping, she gathered the tiny subject of discussion into her arms. "Little doggie nuzzles like other peoples better than me!" she warned him reproachfully. The next instant she tumbled the puppy unceremoniously into Priscilla's lap. "Heavens, here's Dick already!"

Sure enough, Dick Newton, Jane's fiancé of twenty-four hours' standing, was swinging in at the gate, his pleasant eyes alight at the sight of the girl he loved. A moment later, as Priscilla made swift and careful retreat indoors, he took Jane in his arms.

"Jane, darling, we must be married within the month. My firm is sending me out to Shanghai and the trip will be our honeymoon!"

Richard Newton had come to Warronsville for a brief sojourn as temporary manager of a chain of stores. Combining the attributes of a best-seller here with a few individual attractions of his own, he had strangely caused no end of fluttering in the community's feminine hearts—among them Jane's. In fact, the rumor was shuttled about among her gossiping little crowd that Jane was actually hard hit and was making a dead set for the newcomer. And it must be confessed that, in so far as such a thing was possible for a modest, well-bred girl, Jane certainly was. A carefully casual meeting now and then, a bid to call when the warm summer night made the darkened veranda cool and inviting, an irresistible gown—but every girl knows the formula.

Dick had come, had seen, and after a conservative delay all the more provocative, had been conquered. Came the hour when Jane whispered a properly hesitant, "yes"—and now, in the near future, nearer than she had dreamed, tinkled the wedding bells.

Then about the ears of those concerned on the very day before the wedding, the universe all but tumbled, Jane, her nerves worn to an edge by crowded days of preparation for an event which would occupy at most a brief hour or so, went suddenly to pieces.

"It's—it's all a mistake!" she wailed to Priscilla who had passed astounded in the act of stuffing with tissue paper the sleeves of a tulle gown. "I—I don't want to be married!"

"Of—all—things!" cried Priscilla, quite agast. "Jane Crawford, are you crazy?"

"My—marriage," sobbed Jane, dabbing at her eyes with a silk handkerchief. "I was certainly crazy about Dick until I got him. And now—"

"In other words," said Priscilla coldly, "he's a second Pinch. Well, what are you going to do about it?"

"Will you—will you tell him?" asked Jane timidly.

For a full minute Priscilla stared blankly at her cousin. Then her glance swept the room heaped with wedding finery and her expression grew thoughtful. "Well," she said at last, "I suppose, as your maid of honor, I'm at your beck and call for most any old job. So here goes! I happen to know that Dick's over at the house chinning with Dad. She sprang up lightly, tossed the tulle gown in the trunk and was gone.

During her cousin's absence, which was longer than she had anticipated, Jane alternated between sighs of relief and spasms of dread. What would Dick say? How would he take it? Would he—men did do such things—go off and kill himself?

When Priscilla returned her eyes held an odd expression altogether unfathomable. "Jane—I—I fully intended to do as you asked—but, well, it seems that Dick—oh, hang it, Jane, read for yourself!" She extended a man's-size envelope, then folded her hands and watched Jane's face as she read.

"Dear Jane—What will you think of me? I regret—well, let me hurt the whole thing out. I feel like a cad, but are you sure? I had better go through with this? Do we care enough, after all? Hadn't we better rectify a mistake before it is too late?"

RICHARD NEWTON.

For a moment there was silence—silence so deep that the discordant ticking of two clock faces in a distant room was distinctly audible.

Then Jane flew to the telephone. "You, Dick? Well, listen! You can't mean what you wrote! You—you—why, my heart would be broken? Oh, you'll think I have no dignity—no pride! It is all right? Thank heaven!"

Jane turned to her cousin. "Don't you ever tell a single soul, Priscilla, that I almost wasn't married! As for Dick—I just know I can make him happy!"

After the ceremony the following day Dick managed a word with the maid of honor. "You sure were a brick," he told her gratefully, "putting me wise how to deal with Jane yesterday. Of course, it was only the excitement, but—"

"Of course," agreed Priscilla, "only—a word of advice, Dick. Don't ever let Jane feel too sure of you!"

In the limousine that bore them away Jane cast a suspicious glance at her husband. "What were you and Priscilla talking about? I warn you I'm going to be frightfully jealous!" "Jealous?" cried Dick, drawing her

ONE REEL YARNS

BILLY'S GHOST

"Huh! I ain't afraid of anything!" declared Billy Haloran thrusting his hands deep into his pockets and swelled ink out his chest like a prize-fighter.

"Not nothing?" gasped little Mickey O'Rourke.

"Not nothing!" responded Billy enlarging on his bravery as he saw that wee Mickey was much impressed. "Not snakes, or lions or bears not even—Billy lowered his voice to make his climax more effective—"not even G-H-O-S-T-S!"

"Not even Ghosts?" Mickey gasped. "Oh-h-h-h! Wouldn't you be afraid if you were all alone in the middle of the night and a big white ghost rose right up in front of you and pointed its long bony finger at you?"

His Mother, Constance, wavered. "Er—no, I don't think. Anyway my Mama, she says there ain't any such thing as ghosts."

"William, Oh William," his mother's voice interrupted the conversation at this point. "It's time to go to bed, William."

"You wait till you've seen one, like my Pa has," shouted Mickey after him as he went in the house. "He's seen lots of 'em."

"It's funny Mickey's Pa doesn't know any better," thought Billy as he went off to sleep. "Anyway my Mama says there ain't any, an' I guess she knows more than Mickey Pa."

Billy Sees a Ghost

Hours later, it seemed to Billy, but really it was only a very few moments he opened his eyes with a start. Something was wrong, he could feel it. He rubbed his eyes and sat up in bed. Little icy prickles ran up and down his back. He opened his mouth to scream but no sound would come. There right in his own room was a ghost, a horrible, but white ghost.

As Billy looked it waved its arms at him and danced a horrible ghostly dance between him and the window. Billy let out a blood-curdling yell. It pierced the silence, and made Mrs. Haloran drop her iron and rush upstairs. Poor Billy was crying with fright. She turned on the light. Billy sank back in bed weakly. He was looking at a white dress which his mother had thrown and hung up before the window to air.

FAMOUS ANECDOTES OF FAMOUS PEOPLE

Charles Hadden Spurgeon

Students often came to Spurgeon, the great preacher, for counsel and advice.

One day a young man called who seemed very discouraged. He said he feared that he had made a mistake in entering the ministry.

"What do you mean?" Spurgeon asked.

"Well, I've been preaching for several months," explained the young man, "and I haven't had any conversions."

"You don't expect conversions every time you preach, do you?" asked the great minister.

"No, I don't expect them every time," replied the young man.

"Well, then, let it be up to you according to your faith," was the reply.

"If you expect great things from God, you will get them; if you don't, you won't."

"OH, MOTHER," ASKED MARY—"Oh, Mother," asked Mary, "Did you notice Marcia's lovely complexion? What do you suppose she does to it? I'd give anything to have a beautiful complexion like that." Mary sighed in longing.

"I know one reason why Marcia has a clearer skin than you have, Mary," Mrs. Miller said smiling.

"Oh, what is it?" Mary asked eagerly.

"Did you notice how slowly Marcia ate when she was here for lunch yesterday? You were through your lunch before she had finished her meat and potatoes. Marcia may not know it, but I imagine that is the main reason why she has such a nice complexion."

"Why, I don't see how the way you eat can effect your complexion!" Mary said in surprise.

"It does seem strange," explained her mother, "but it is really very simple. When you do not properly chew your food it gives too much work to your stomach. This requires an extra amount of blood which is filled then with impurities. The result is that the skin has to take up part of the task of clearing the blood."

"I see," said Mary. "What is what makes pimples and ugly complexions, I'll remember it."

"Yes, and I will, too," chimed in Bob, her brother, who had been quietly listening all the while.

ORPHANS HAVE BIG DAY AT THE CIRCUS SHOWING TONIGHT

Good Crowd Enjoys Performance this Afternoon Opposite the Fair Grounds

"Gee it was great—clowns, an' clowns, an' ponies, an' barback riders, an' nice little dogs, an' everythin'."

Freddie faced little Bobby from the Home of the Friendless spoke for himself, for all the other little ones from the institution and for children from St. Michael's Home who were entertained this afternoon at the matinee performance of the Rhoda Royal three ring circus. The Elks, under whose auspices the circus is in La Crosse today, were the hosts.

Shortly after the noon hour some twenty or more Elks drove to the institution in their big automobiles, loaded the happy children in and took them to the circus tents out on Campbell road. The honored guests were first taken through the menagerie and were then placed in the best reserved seats where they could see all the wonders in the three rings. During the progress of the matinee the Elks served lemonade and gave the children plenty of peanuts and popcorn and candy.

The Rhoda Royal circus arrived over the Milwaukee road long before daylight and just as Old Sol was setting the first big wagon was started to the grounds. All the paraphernalia and animals followed and before nine o'clock the tents had been erected and preparations for the parade were on. This parade left the grounds at eleven o'clock and was witnessed by thousands. There were scores of fat sleek horses, open cages of animals, band, elephants, a cellophane elephants and a big Wild West section.

At the matinee performance the big tent was well filled and the performance pleased. Among the feature acts that attracted special attention were the Royal troupe of trained horses, Don Darragh's educated elephants, the Strickney family of barback riders, the LeVans, acrobats, and clowns, headed by Phil King and the Linnegar Brothers, acrobats. The show was clean and good fun from start to finish and the Elks took for record breaking crowd tonight. The doors tonight will be opened at seven o'clock, standard time and the show will be started promptly at eight o'clock.

JAP SCIENTISTS DISCOVER PROCESS OF MAKING IRON FROM MAGNETIC SAND; GIVES JAPS METAL INDEPENDENCE

TOKIO.—A new process by which sand-iron, or magnetic sand, may be converted into pig iron and thence into steel, has just been made public by Goro Matsukata and Dr. Asabu Naito. The discovery, the scientists aver, will not only revolutionize the steel industry in Japan but of the world. The process is carried out by means of combining the sand-iron with coke, using hot gas flames and making ferro-coke, from which iron can easily be taken.

Japan has little or no iron in any form which may be easily mined and this fact has made this country one of the biggest importers of iron, especially from England and the United States. However, magnetic sand is abundant throughout the empire, but was quite useless up to the time of the discovery of the new process. The discoverers claim that the new process will make Japan one of the biggest iron producing countries of the world, independent of England and the United States in the matter of iron imports.

RUTH CHATTERTON IS HERE TONIGHT AT THE THEATRE

To fit, with a proper musical setting, the fantastic scenes of J. M. Barrie's play, "Mary Rose," in which Ruth Chatterton makes her welcome return here at the La Crosse Theatre for the performance, tonight at 8:15, standard time, would seem to have been no easy task. Yet the most confirmed and devoted Barrieites agreed that Norman O'Neill has accomplished the feat splendidly.

Young O'Neill, who is known in this country principally as the composer of the musical setting for Maeterlinck's "The Blue Bird," is the conductor of the Haymarket Theatre Orchestra in London, and on the stage of this playhouse "Mary Rose" had its first performance. To Frederic Harrison, the producer of the play, and manager of the Haymarket, Barrie delivered his instructions concerning the incidental music he wished. These instructions were delivered to O'Neill, the playwright implying that he would prefer to have the young composer, of all those in London, invent the score to accompany numerous scenes to be musically emphasized.

These instructions were as "Barri-esque" as those invariably inserted by the Scotchman throughout his manuscripts for the guidance of the producer and stage manager. They follow exactly as written by Barrie:

"Mary Rose is sitting demurely, but gayly, on the tree stump, holding her tongue, like a child. Something else is happening. The island has begun to 'cull' to Mary Rose. The sound is like the wash of waves on some untrodden shore, with wind whistling through it and a strange moaning—got best perhaps from a great organ pipe. It is mysterious and threatening and is at first as soft as a whisper, but it rapidly increases in volume till it is horribly loud. It is furtive, fearsome, seductive, but beneath it there is lovely music and calls of 'Mary Rose,' as if there were something very beautiful about the 'call,' which is trying to assert itself, but is largely drowned in the other more eerie sounds.

"To the eye all is as placid and sunny as before. We hear the call and Mary Rose hears it, but Simon and Cameron continue as they were, hear-

JUDGE REFUSES TO ISSUE WARRANTS IN JERSEY FIGHT WAR

Declares He'd Have to Go to Jail Himself as Spectator of Dempsey-Carp Go

OCEAN GROVE, N. J.—The first of a series of rallies designed to aid in bringing about repeal of the Hurley act permitting boxing bouts in New Jersey was held here Friday by the international reform bureau. The bureau which has been trying to cause punishment of Jack Dempsey, George Carpenter, Tex Rickard and everybody else that had anything to do with the big fight on July 2, lost another round Thursday when Common Pleas Judge Dougherty of Hudson county refused to issue warrants for the fighters and their managers, sought under an anti-prize fight act, passed by the New Jersey legislature in 1908.

"If I should issue such warrants," said the judge, "I would have to take Dempsey by the hand and march to jail with him. Judge Blair of this court and myself attended the fight together. He could be arrested for aiding and abetting in the promotion of the fight if I took this action."

Judge Dougherty ruled the 1908 act had been superseded by the Hurley act. He told bureau representatives he would not be inclined to issue warrants if complaints were filed under the Hurley act, saying he thought the matter should be submitted to a grand jury.

BERLIN JEWELERS FACING SERIOUS FINANCIAL CRISIS

Investigate Cause of Extraordinary Slump in Trade in Precious Stones

BERLIN.—Trade in precious stones has experienced such a slump in the past 12 months that many of the jewelers are facing a serious financial crisis, according to Berlin experts who have been investigating the causes of an unusual situation.

The diamond markets are especially threatened, for the men and women who made much money during the war and invested heavily in diamonds, recently have been selling brilliants extensively, while the old families of established wealth, upon which the trade once depended, have ceased to buy. It is said 50 to 60 percent of those who bought jewels with war profits in Germany and England have either sold their purchases or offered them for sale within the last few months.

The synthetic diamond, as well as the artificial ruby, sapphire, and spinel, also has invaded the market to the detriment of the trade in legitimate stones, not only because many artificial stones are sold as genuine, but because the artificial jewel is preferred by many because it is less expensive, and often can be differentiated only by the connoisseur.

The business in synthetic stones has grown immensely during the last few years, with Germany and France the principal competitors, and Switzerland as a close third. Raw materials for the manufacture of the artificial ruby, which is accomplished by an electrical process, are purchased by Swiss manufacturers from Germany, which has handicapped Switzerland in the race for control of the world market.

Although the production of artificial jewels has greatly increased the prices have risen which is attributed by the experts to the improved technique. Prices of synthetic rubies and sapphires have increased 50 fold over pre-war prices.

Owing to the stagnation of the trade in genuine diamonds a number of the largest importing houses have ceased importations from South Africa, where their chief supply was secured, and others have greatly reduced their purchases of raw diamonds.

Church Spends $10,000,000 for Improvements and $19,000,000 for Benevolences CHICAGO.—The total ministerial support of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 1920 was $24,084,223, according to a survey made public today by Dr. C. M. Barton of the Division of Appropriations of the Methodist Committee on Conservation and Advance. Of this amount, pastors' salaries, including house rent were $21,944,613; the District Superintendent's salaries, $1,360,221; Bishops' salaries, $314,080; and for Conference Chairmen or for Preacher's pensions, $1,360,409.

For building and improvements, the church spent $10,055,179; and on all indebtedness, $4,636,196; and for all current expenses, $11,220,933; a total of $51,481,133.

Centenary and other apportioned benevolences for the church were $16,080,675; women's missionary societies and Children's Day Funds, $3,073,672; a total of $19,154,347. Dr. Barton said that this gives a total disbursement for the Methodist Episcopal Church for the above purposes in 1920 of $70,644,480.

Never Mind the Test Buy Red Crown —the HIGH-GRADE GAS

To illustrate the fallacy of the gravity argument: It is only necessary to remember that the gravity of gasoline can be controlled if the quality is not considered. You know, of course, that gasoline is not an elementary compound like water. It is composed of innumerable compounds.

But, you may be surprised to know that every component part of gasoline has a different gravity, and every component part of gasoline has a close relation to its efficiency.

It is the proper and scientific grouping, or adjustment, of these parts that makes good gasoline.

Gravity is merely the comparison of the weight of a liquid with water. What the component parts weigh in relation to water means nothing, but the heat or energy which these component parts give off mean a lot.

RED CROWN Has a Perfect Chain of Boiling Point Fractions

It has the low initial for easy starting, the correct range for quick get-away, smooth acceleration, and tremendous power and speed.

There isn't a gap in the chain of boiling point fractions in Red Crown for a gap in the chain means a gap in the power.

Red Crown delivers the utmost in service all the time. It never varies no matter where you get it, and you can get it everywhere, every few blocks in the city, and every few miles in the country.

You are wasting money if you pay more for gasoline than the price of Red Crown.

STEAM ENGINES TO RUN AIRPLANES IS PLAN OF OFFICER

Believes New System Will Function at Higher Altitudes than Old Engines

LONDON.—Invention of a system of steam propulsion for airplanes is claimed by Captain W. P. Bartlett, who was a British naval officer during the war and up to a year ago staff captain in the Chief Mechanical and Electrical Engineer's department of the Royal Air Force. It is maintained that the new system will function at altitudes hitherto unattainable with the ordinary type of internal combustion engine.

The invention is said to do away completely with the ordinary boiler, steam being generated by means of internal-combustion power or heat energy. The superheated steam heat energy is supplied to special steam motors which are reversible and can be controlled from a central control station.

Only heavy oil is used as fuel and it is claimed that the driving machinery can be safely placed inside the frame of the airplane instead of in separate gondolas outside, thus bringing about a great reduction in air resistance and consequently reducing the power required for propulsion. The engines or "steam motors," as Captain Bartlett calls them, are of the double-acting type requiring no flywheels.

WEST IS SAFER FOR GIRLS THAN GOTHAM CLAIM FAIR HIKERS

Wanderlust Epidemic Among Eastern Girls During the Present Summer

NEW YORK.—The roaming complex, sometimes called the wanderlust has become epidemic among Eastern girls of debutante years. Not a few of them are tramping across the continent this summer, gathering an occasional "life" from kindly automobile tourists and walking the rest of the way. So-called sensible shoes, khaki trousers and the will to work when the purse becomes emancipated characterize most of them.

Some of these Eastern girls declare they find the West safer for young women than New York City. Rebecca Brownstein and Myra Levine, former students of Syracuse University who recently hiked from the Pacific to their homes here, advised Western men so highly that many mothers began praying that their dear daughters would not get any of "those crazy ideas of walking across the country" into their heads.

Florence Rosen and Gladys Zimmerman of New York, reached Los Angeles a few days ago after a long tramp across the continent, broken by jobs of stretching ocarves on type-writers wherever funds ran low. They liked the open air life so well that they immediately began saving up for a return jaunt.

Eliminate Worthless Pictures

If pictures are worth framing have them framed. Otherwise put them away or throw them away. Don't let the younger members of the family pin pictures on the wall. The edges curl and they soon become unsightly dust collectors. Small, fuzzy bric-a-brac should be avoided for the same reason.

MRS. STORER PRINTS REVIEW OF HER FUSS WITH "THE COLONEL"

Old Controversy Over Cardinal Appointment for Ireland Received by Mrs. Storer

PARIS.—Mrs. Bellamy Storer has published for private circulation a book which largely relates to her controversy with Theodore Roosevelt over efforts to have Archbishop Ireland made a cardinal—a controversy which gained wide attention through publication of the so-called "Dear Maria" letters. The edition is limited to one hundred copies.

Entitled "Theodore Roosevelt, the Child," the book after giving such deduction as to his character as the title of the book implies, quotes from letters by him to the author and her husband discussing the advisability of the red hat for the archbishop. The earliest letter relating to the Archbishop Ireland incident was written when Mr. Roosevelt was governor of New York.

It is understood that Mrs. Storer withheld the brochure from general circulation because the Roosevelt family has proprietary rights in Mr. Roosevelt's letters. The book contains a letter from Cardinal Gibbons approving of Mrs. Storer's plan to publish the letters.

One of the letters written when Colonel Roosevelt was police commissioner of New York contains a scathing denunciation of editors of a certain New York newspaper, one of whom Joseph Bucklin Bishop, later became the colonel's friend and is now his biographer.

SHERIFF COWS MOB STORMING JAIL TO LYNCH 3 BLACKS

200 Men and Women at Barnstable, Mass., Threaten Death to Girl's Assaultants

BARNSTABLE, Mass.—A mob of nearly 200 men and women carrying ropes early Friday morning stormed the local jail, threatening to lynch three Cape Verde Island negro prisoners charged with highway robbery and criminal assault on a young white woman at Buzzard's Bay.

Early this morning 25 automobiles whose occupants included women as well as men drove up to the jail. Others came on foot and together they marched on the jail entrance. They demanded the three negroes, John Dies, Benjamin Gomez and Joseph Andrews, from Sheriff Rosenthal.

When the jail defenders, five men in all, fired in the air as the mob approached, the crowd came to a halt. Chief Warden Boland warned the mob back, shouting that at the first attempt to attack the jail they would "be shot down like rats."

The warning had its effect but the crowd remained outside the jail nearly an hour and a half still threatening an attack.

Dies and Gomez were held in $15,000 bail each Thursday and Andrews was to be arraigned Friday. All three have been identified by Miss Gertrude Butler and William Edgeridge as the men who held them up and criminally assaulted Miss Butler.

Ten members of the state police patrol have been ordered to proceed here from the annual camp in Framingham.

ABEL SILAS LUNDE

The funeral of Abel Silas Lund will be held in the Coon Valley church Saturday at 2 p. m. Interment will be in the Coon Valley cemetery. The body may be seen Friday afternoon and evening at the undertaking rooms of Taylor, Sletten and Dahl. Abel S. Lund died Thursday morning in a local hospital. He was born on a farm near Coon Valley, June 9, 1903, grew up on the farm and was graduated from the Coon Valley grade school and attending the high school there for two years. Two years ago he came to La Crosse with his father and mother. He graduated with the June class from the La Crosse high school and was undecided whether to go to the University of Wisconsin or to a seminary and take up a theological course. He was much in favor of the latter course, however. Surviving him are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Lund, the former being the La Crosse county treasurer; three brothers, Orville and Archie, both of whom are on farms near Coon Valley, and Paul, of La Crosse, and one sister, Laura Lund, of La Crosse, to mourn a good son and brother.

Cultivate Observation

Observation is a quality that is easy to cultivate if you make up your mind to do so. Try to notice the birds and beasts, the men and things you see every day. Ask yourself at night what you have seen during the day. At first your answers will be very short, but soon you will find that you are beginning really to see things. It is not difficult, and it is well worth while. Allied with observation is the power of imagination. The first enables us to see things as they are; by means of the second we see things as they might be. Imagination makes use not of the outward eye, but of the mind's eye.

PREDICTS ULTIMATE LOSS TO ROADS ON HIGH RAIL RATES

Little Difference this Year But it's Driving Men from Farms Says Expert

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Heavy rail movement of grain will continue this fall in spite of high freight rates and low market prices, H. W. Prickett, Salt Lake City traffic bureau told the interstate commerce commission Friday. Farmers will be compelled to sell and take a loss, he said, to meet long deferred debts. The testimony was given in connection with the investigation of rates on grain in western states.

Unless carriers reduce the rates on grain, however, the movement will be curtailed greatly after this year because many farmers are abandoning their farms, Mr. Prickett said.

In calculating future freight rates, the commission should figure on an increased grain movement during the next few years, provided freight rates are reduced, the witness contended. He presented figures on car earnings intended to show that the movement of wheat is more profitable to the carriers than many other basic commodities.

W. S. Hanson, a Utah farmer and banker, said farmers in his state exhausted their credit at the banks which as a rule are not forcing liquidation as they know it would bring about even more serious conditions.

Musical Gifts of Boys and Girls

The higher musical endowments in male children are shown plainly in vocal and piano classes, where it seems inevitable that the most expert and brightest students are boys. For every musical girl, there appears to be five boys equally gifted. They have naturally a better idea of harmony and instinctively grasp musical values, which, in the majority of cases, become understood by their feminine rivals only by dint of hard study—exchange.

PLAN STATE MEETS TO PLAN POLICIES AS TO EDUCATION

Scheme Put Forward by Fitzpatrick for Co-ordination of all School Bodies

MADISON, Wis.—A conference of all the educational boards and agencies to be held some time in November or December to consider the educational problems of the state was suggested by the state board of education at its meeting Friday, and the Secretary directed to take the necessary steps to secure the co-operation of the various educational boards.

"It seems to me," said Major E. A. Fitzpatrick, secretary of the board, in presenting the matter to the board, "very important that the law members of the educational boards should come together also for an exchange of views and for mutual consideration of the great fundamental policies of the state which affect all of them. Such a meeting should not give place to the ordinary speeches of educational conferences. A definite program should be worked out by a committee consisting of a representative of each board, papers should be prepared in advance, and distributed to all members at least one month before the conference. These papers should be more in the nature of plans and suggestions rather than on the basis of theoretical discussions."

"Such a meeting as this would, in my judgment, tremendously help the morale of the educational system, and would help while from that point of view alone."

THUNDER STORM WAS FAVOR IN INVENTION OF ICE CREAM SODA

Soda Fountain Standby of Today Discovered in 1880 by Fred Sanders

DETROIT, Mich.—A summer thunder shower 41 years ago resulted in the "invention" of the ice cream soda, according to Fred Sanders, Jr., of Detroit, whose grandfather, Fred Sanders, claimed the distinction of having discovered this American institution.

Spouting of his grandfather's discovery Mr. Sanders said:

"Forty years ago the American people regarded ice cream much as the fly that could not be painted. At that time they 'took it straight.' Straws were in general use in drink concoctions but the ice cream sundae and its many near relatives were unknown. Carbonated water was used by the soda dispensers in a popular drink known as sweet cream soda. Its chief ingredient was sweet cream, direct from the farm.

"The thunderstorm that brought about my grandfather's discovery came in the summer of 1880. He was conducting a soft drink parlor and the storm caused the sweet cream he had intended for sodas to sour. Just after the storm passed a wedding party dropped in and my grandfather volunteered to experiment until he found a substitute drink. He tried several drinks and finally concocted one almost identical with the ice cream soda of today.

"Members of the party liked the new drink so well that it became popular within a short time and soon all dealers were making the sodas."

RUSSIAN FAMINE BLAMED ON DEMORALIZATION OF NATION'S RAIL SERVICE

RIGA, Latvia.—By the Associated Press.—Chief among the causes of the threatened famine in soviet Russia this year, which bolshevik newspapers themselves admit is likely to be even worse than last year, is the utter disorganization of the railway traffic. This disorganization has become worse, despite efforts of the soviet government to alleviate it.

Little or none of the locomotives and other railway equipment ordered from abroad, has as yet arrived. The inadequate supply of workable rolling stock has, in the meantime, been even further depleted by the necessity of fulfilling peace treaties which soviet Russia made with the Baltic states, such as Latvia. To these states Russia has turned over scores of locomotives, hundreds of cars and other equipment, much of which had been taken from the Baltic states by the czaristic and provisional governments of Russia in their hasty military evacuations before the advancing Germans.

Added to this shortage of equipment is an almost completely prevailing condition of deteriorated roadbeds. The commissariat of communications, says a Moscow dispatch taken from various bolshevik newspapers, is expecting soon a new railway traffic crisis. The tracks are so much in need of repair that next spring, officials say, it will be dangerous to travel on many lines.

Embankments have sunk down, ties are rotten, rails are worn out. If the chief forest committee is not able to supply, by the beginning of 1922, nearly 10,000,000 ties, it will be necessary to interrupt traffic on some main lines. Even if it were possible to get the necessary materials, says the dispatch, it is probable that through scarcity of labor or some other unexpected crisis, it will be necessary to stop traffic on some branch lines. On double track lines, only one track is to be repaired, stripping the other track of its rails to do this, in order to have at least a fairly efficient single track.

The railway commissariat has little revenue because most travelers are government officials and very seldom are traveling private persons. To travel one must have a pocket full of permits, unless he desires to take his chances with the mobs riding on the tops of trains carrying bags of food to the cities. Practically no one pays fares, but the government has just instituted a new tariff by which it hopes to charge for tickets, in bolshevik rubles, about two thousand times the fares prevailing in 1917.

The railway commissariat budget calls for the expenditure of 348,000,000 rubles for 1921 and shows no expected revenue. To transport sufficient food to the cities is one problem; to produce in factories sufficient articles to barter with the peasants for grain is another. This latter task is admittedly difficult. The government estimates called for manufacture of tradeable articles to the value of 100,000,000, of goods (each 36 lbs.) of grain. Speakers before the food supply conference at Moscow expressed the opinion, bolshevik newspapers themselves say, that the government would be lucky to get by this means, half of that estimate.

Bruckhoff, speaking at the conference, gave what he said was accurate data of the decrease in industry in comparison with pre-war times. The 1920 production, he said, of iron was 2 1/2 per cent of pre-war; salt, 17 per cent; coal, 20 per cent; pig iron, 2 1/2 per cent; other raw iron, 2 to 3 per cent; cotton manufactures, 5 to 6 per cent; linen thread, 2 1/2 per cent; matches, 13 per cent; sugar, 6 per cent; and tobacco, 5 per cent.

"Therefore," said Bruckhoff, "home manufactures will in no way be sufficient for goods exchanged with the peasants. From abroad must be imported at least eighty to ninety millions of gold rubles worth of goods, but under present circumstances this is impossible."

Halatoff, one of the actual directors of supply, said the government would be lucky to get from all sources 300,000,000 goods and, therefore, either foreign imports or decreased rationing would be necessary.

Complicating both the food and transport crisis is the extremely serious fuel shortage, causing on one hand curtailment of rail traffic and on the other the closing down of factories. By imports from abroad the government is endeavoring to get coal to operate the factories, but while the Third Internationale was approving the English strike, the strike was delaying shipments of coal to Petrograd for this purpose.

Wonderful Timepiece
One of the native rulers in India, the nawab of Bamour, is the possessor of a watch valued at more than $80,000. The lower case is cut from a single topaz, the upper from an emerald, and a diamond, around very thin, serves for the crystal. The watch shows the seconds, minutes, quarter hours, half hours, hours, days, weeks, months, seasons, years and leap years up to the year 9999.

And the Class Smiled
I was teaching a class of senior boys and girls in high school. One boy uttered a great deal by putting his arm around the boy next to him and leaning over in a spineless fashion. At the end of my patience, one day I exclaimed: "Donald, if you can't keep your arms where they belong you'll have to sit here beside me."—Exchange.

When the King Tips
When the king of England goes to stay with one of his subjects there is a fixed rule for his tip. He, or rather his equestrian, leaves with the house steward the sum of $500 for distribution among the staff.

NOW A FOLLY TO HAVE CORNS

Millions of People Know An Easy Way to End Them—Quick and Sure

Folks all about you now treat corns in this scientific way. That's why corns are becoming so uncommon. At the first corn pain they apply Blue-jay—the liquid or the plaster—for sale at all druggists. The pain stops instantly. Soon the whole corn gently loosens and comes out.

This is not like old ways, harsh and crude. It is the modern method, put out by a laboratory of world-wide repute.

For millions of people it has solved the corn problem. It will bring you freedom—and forever—when you know it. For your own sake, find this out tonight.

A POUND OF BUTTER COSTS WEEK'S WAGES ON MOSCOW MARKET

Prices of Foodstuffs Reported Steadily on the Up-grade

RIGA, Latvia.—Prices of foodstuffs on the Moscow market are reported steadily increasing. A pound of rye bread, early in July, could be had at from 7,000 to 9,000 rubles; beef at 10,000 to 12,000; butter from 18,000 to 20,000 rubles, and potatoes from 1,000 to 2,800 rubles a pound, while eggs are sold at 1,000 to 1,200 rubles and cucumbers, one of the most popular articles of diet, at 1,000 to 1,500 rubles each.

The average wage paid in factories and to government employees, in addition to rations supplied by the state, was about 10,000 to 15,000 rubles a month.

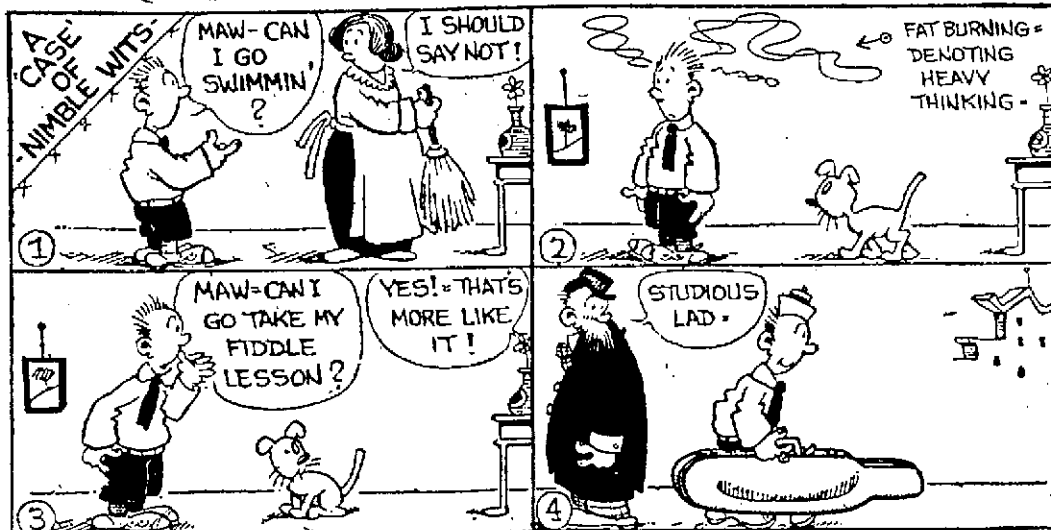

The Moscow rations for the week, as reported by the official Pravda, were for workmen of the preferred classes, three pounds of black bread, some herrings and small quantities of other essentials for a period of five days. Less favored citizens were allotted one pound of bread for five days and no herrings. The wages allowed in addition to these rations would not buy a pound of butter.

The bolshevik government, in fixing international telegraph tolls, considered 20,000 rubles as equal to one dollar.

WAUKON DEATHS

WAUKON, Iowa.—Mrs. J. C. Crawford, lifelong resident of Waukon, died Tuesday at her home here. Although she had been in poor health the past few months at times, yet her illness reached a critical condition only a week or so ago. Death was due to a complication of diseases. Flora Elizabeth Newell, daughter of Charles and Mary Newell, was born in Waukon, October 7, 1856. She became a member of the First Baptist church in Waukon, April 2, 1876. She was a member of the first class ever graduated from the Waukon high school and taught in that and other schools of the country. She was married September 2, 1882, to Dr. John C. Crawford, who survives her. Three children were born to this union, who survive, namely: Captain Nathan N. Crawford of the regular army, who was being transferred from Fort Robinson, Neb., to Camp Grant, Ill., when he received word of his mother's illness, and he reached here just a few hours after her death; Mrs. E. A. Allenson of Waukon, and Mrs. Cary Steele of Carroll, Iowa. Also four grandchildren. Six brothers and sisters also survive: Mrs. F. C. Barnard of this city; Edward Newell of Dubuque, Del. Newell of Hoquiam, Wash.; Mrs. David Eaton of Cresco, Iowa, and Ben and Miss Mary Newell of Waukon. Funeral services were held Thursday from the house, conducted by Rev. R. L. Van Nice, with interment in Oakland cemetery.

BY AHERN

her daughter, Mrs. P. F. Dempsey, in this city. Funeral services were held Monday morning, which would have been her eighty-second birthday. Rev. Fr. Fitzgerald of Dubuque conducted the services at St. Patrick's church, and interment was made in Mount Olivet cemetery. Kathryn Devine was born in Dublin, Ireland, August 15, 1840, and came to America at the age of 20, residing the first year in New York city. From there she went to Philadelphia to live with her brother, Luke Devine. There she met and married Richard Maguire and after a residence of two years in that city they came to Iowa and to Allamakee county, settling on a farm in Jefferson township, where all but the eldest of their children were born and where Mr. Maguire died thirty-five years ago. After her husband's death she lived with her son, William, until six months ago she took up her residence in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dempsey, in Waukon.

The surviving children are Thomas of Kensal, N. D.; William and James of Waukon; Mrs. Margaret Dempsey of Waukon; Mrs. Teresa Welter of Chicago. One daughter, Mrs. Mary Montgomery, preceded her in death a few months ago. She also leaves twelve grandchildren and many friends who will deeply mourn her departure. Joseph Hoffman passed away Thursday at his home in French Creek township, where he had resided for sixty-nine years. He was past eighty-three years of age. Born in Holms, Germany, February 6, 1828, he came with his parents to America when he was 14 years old and they settled on the farm in French Creek township which had since been his home. He was united in marriage February 2, 1875, with Miss Mary O. Haas and to them were born seven children, three of whom died in infancy. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and four daughters, namely: Mrs. Hiler Teff of Dorchester; Mrs. John Mauss and Mrs. Fred Hammel of Church, and Mrs. Fred Wieg of Madison, Wis. Two sisters and one brother survive: Mrs. Eva Kohn of Cherokee, Iowa; Mrs. Julia Haas, Jackson Junction, Iowa; Mrs. Jacob Hoffman of Moyd, Ore. Also twelve grandchildren. Burial took place at Lyonsburg Saturday morning at 9:30.

Eczema Caused Years of Intense Agony

"I have suffered intense agony from eczema on my leg and other parts of my body for years, and received only temporary relief from other preparations. It is only a month since I started to use PETERSON'S OINTMENT, and there is no sign of eczema or itching. You can refer to me."—Geo. C. Talbot, 27 Penfield Street, Buffalo, N. Y.
"I've got a hundred testimonials, says Peterson of Buffalo, just as sincere and honest as this one. Years ago when I first started to put out PETERSON'S OINTMENT, I made my mind to give a big box for 25 cents, and I am still doing it, as every druggist in the country knows.
"I guarantee PETERSON'S OINTMENT because I know that its mighty healing power is marvelous. I say to every one who buys a box that it is rightly guaranteed for eczema, salt rheum, old sores, blind, bleeding and itching piles, ulcers, skin diseases, chafing, burns, scalds and sunburn, and if not satisfactory any druggist will return your money." # JOFFRE AT ENOUGH TO FEED 3 ORDINARY MEN DECLARES CHEF

Latest War Reminiscences are Those Written by Man Who Prepared Marshal's Meals

PARIS. — The latest war reminiscences to be printed are those of the "chef" who presided over the French General Staff during the Battle of the Marne and who prepared the simple but abundant menu that Marshal, then General, Joffre sat down to at very irregular hours.

If the chef's culinary accomplishments were not superior to his literary talent then one pitiful poor General Joffre and it must have been a relief to the Commander-in-Chief to leave the mess table and return to the battle line.

"During the Battle of the Marne," says the chef, "the General put away enough food to feed three ordinary men." Then he adds naively: "I hope, Monsieur le Marechal, won't mind what I say about the General."

One of the most amusing incidents related by the chef is that on September 12, when it became clear that the enemy was in full flight northward and that the battle was won, congratulations were in order and he received instructions that the menu for the dinner should be as much of a banquet as his raw material would permit.

Just as the meal was about to be completed a British automobile came up to headquarters with a basket of champagne as a token of congratulation to the French Staff. It came from a British unit "in the line." The chef was just getting ready to serve it when he noted that the bottles bore a German mark and he informed the officer of the fact. That worthy forbade him to serve the champagne to the staff and ordered him to throw the bottles away. "We did," says the chef, "but only the next morning, and they were empty."

Putting Mystery to Work
Let no one argue that because the mind is still intangible—and probably always will be to mortal man—that psychology is impracticable. Electricity is an unknown quantity; no one knows whence it cometh or whither it goeth; yet it would be hard to find anything more practical than an electric fan on a sweltering day—to take one of the least and most homely of its uses. Although mysterious, electricity can be directed, its reactions predicted, and its power ascertained. The result is that the element is exceedingly useful.—R. H. Platt Jr., in the World's Work.

BRITISH PRODUCERS PROTEST AMERICAN TAX ON MOVIE FILMS

Levy Characterized as Prohibitive and Detrimental to International Exchanges

LONDON.—A letter protesting against the proposed American import tax upon motion picture films as "prohibitive and detrimental to the international interchange of ideas of life" appeared in a recent issue of the London Times signed by 16 British film producers who appended their signatures to the letter as members of the British Producers' committee of the Incorporated Association of Cinematograph Manufacturers.

The letter declared that if British manufacturers are to be entirely debarred from introducing scenes of English life to the people of America "there can be no option but to prevent the practically free importation of American films into this country." The letter notes that the 30 per cent ad valorem duty is based upon the cost of production of similar work in the United States, asserting at the same time that the cost of the production is admittedly about five times as heavy there as in England. The writers say that about 85 per cent of the films shown on British screens are of American origin.

NORMAL STUDENTS DESIRE WORK TO STAY IN SCHOOL

Many Will Not Be Able to Attend Unless They Secure Jobs this Fall

As everyone knows, work is very scarce this year. There are a lot of Normal school students, both boys and girls, who are counting on getting some kind of work to assist them in paying their expenses for the school year. If they do not get a job of some sort they will be forced to give up the idea of going to school, and both they and the Normal will be the losers.

Anyone who has a job for a young man or woman, such as waiting on table, fixing furniture, clerking, or anything else is requested to communicate with the Normal school as soon as possible, in order that as many students as possible may be placed before the beginning of the fall term.

JAZZ, WAR DOG OF WAUKON, IS KILLED UNDER AUTO WHEELS

WAUKON, Iowa.—Jazz is dead. After surviving all the dangers of bombs, air raids and gas throughout the conflict of nations beneath the flag of his mother country, France, Jazz met violent and sudden death Tuesday morning at this place and now lies at rest beneath the soil of the land of his adoption.

Jazz was only a dog, but an extraordinary one. Picked up during the war by Joe Roman, a Waukon veteran, serving in France, Jazz became attached to his benefactor and loyally served his master during the war and at its close emigrated to America with his master and at once adapted himself to American environment. He barked and whined in regular American dog language, but of fighting he had a plenty over, and he proved himself a quick, trustworthy canine and soon became widely known as Waukon's French war dog.

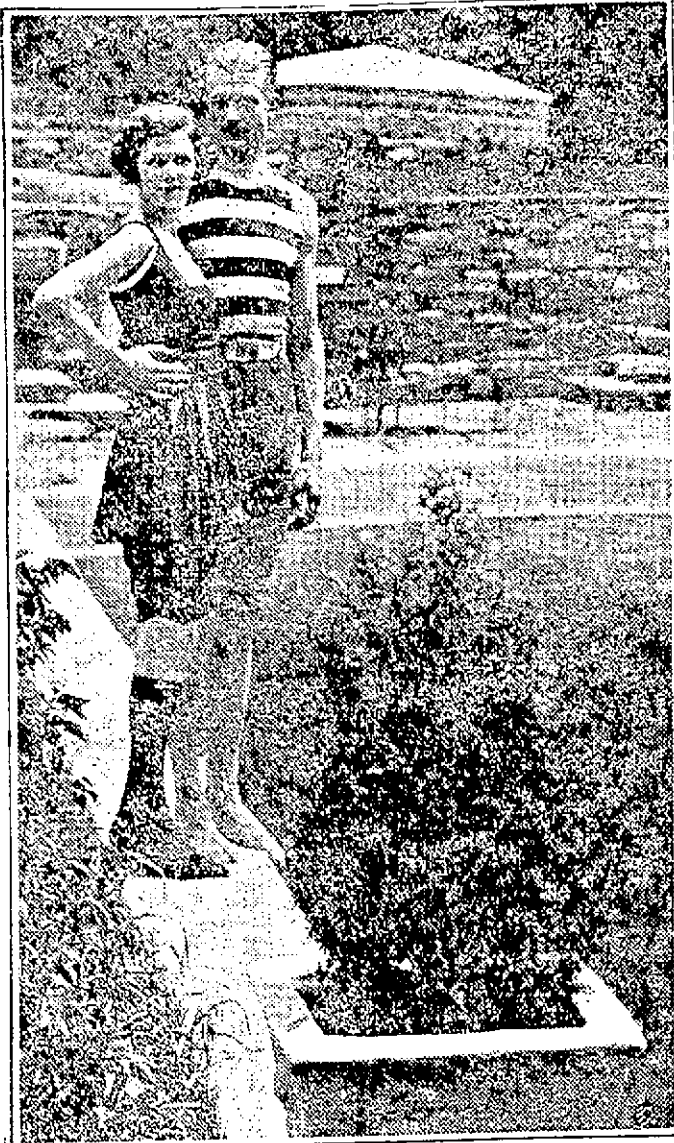

Tuesday morning Jazz made a fatal move. He frisked out into the street where dogs belong not, and failed to observe an approaching auto which struck him and injured him so seriously that his death resulted in a few minutes. Jazz was a friend of all and grief is expressed by many over his death.

In The MOVIES

AT THE THEATERS TODAY
Rivoli—Mary Miles Minter in "Moonlight and Honeysuckle," Torchy comedy, "Torchy Mixes In," and the Beyerstedts.
La Crosse—Ruth Chatterton in "Mary Rose."
Riviera—Jubilee Girls in "Fair and Warmer," Bert Lytell in "The Misleading Lady," a Metro comedy, "Daddy Lions," Riviera orchestra.
Casino—Gladys Walton in "All Dolled Up," Lyons and Moran comedy, "Blue Sunday."
Strand—Mary Roberts Rinehart's "Dangerous Days," Fox News.

RIVOLI THEATER
Realart has certainly kept its promise of obtaining only the finest stories and plays for that popular little star, Mary Miles Minter. Her latest release, "Moonlight and Honeysuckle," which began a three day run at the Rivoli theater last night, was a famous Broadway hit a few years ago, with Ruth Chatterton playing the stellar role. In its film form, cleverly adapted by Barbara Kent, this George Scarborough comedy-romance is as good entertainment as has come to the local screen in many months. Miss Minter plays the role of a willful and spoiled daughter of a millionaire ranchman. The girl, tiring of ranch life, manoeuvres her father into politics and gets him elected to a senatorship. Then they move to Washington, leaving the ranch manager desolate for love of Mistress Judith.

In Washington the young lady enjoys a whirlwind popularity. In fact, she has so many suitors she doesn't know what to do. Memories of Tod, the ranch manager, begin to fade under the glamour of the dress suit crowd she now runs with. But she cannot decide between her suitors, so hits upon the unique scheme of trial engagements. Several of them, simultaneously!

The plot thickens when the ranchman lover appears on the scene, armed with a six shooter, an engagement ring for Judith, and a grim determination. Judith triumphantly marries her father off to a convenient widow, breaks all the trial engagements, and accepts her Wild West swain. Washington then settles down to normalcy again.

Monte Blue plays the cowboy lover, an "I'll Love You" Mahel Van Buren, William Boyd, Guy Oliver and Grace Goodall are also prominent in the cast.

BERT LYTELL AND JUBILEE GIRLS IN "FAIR AND WARMER"
AT RIVIERA FOR TWO DAYS
Bert Lytell in his latest Metro special, "The Misleading Lady," and the Jubilee Girls in an adaptation of the famous comedy, "Fair and Warmer," is the double comedy bill at the Riviera today and Saturday. Marie Pfeil will sing "No Wonder I'm Blue," with the chorus; Betty Martin offers "Frankie," a single number; Harry Bowers and girls will sing "Nestle in Your Daddy's Arms;" Jimmy Dooley will give parodies and the Jubilee comedy quartet will offer several selections. A south African village was constructed by Metro craftsmen for the screen version of "The Misleading Lady." This novel outdoor setting represented a native encampment on the shore of a lake in South Africa in which more than 150 blacks revel in barbaric freedom. Extensive location for the village, and the "wilds" of New Jersey, explored in an effort to obtain surroundings entirely appropriate for such a setting for "The Misleading Lady." The village is an exact reproduction of similar settlements in South Africa, from thatched huts and tom-toms to the rings in the noses of the beech-clad savages.

GLADYS WALTON—CASINO
"All Dolled Up," the Universal photodrama, which is now playing at the Casino with Gladys Walton in the starring role, will be equally interesting to millionaires and shop girls. It deals with the tangled romance of Maggie Quick, a shop girl, and Ida Dundy, a millionaire spinster, and gives the star a great opportunity to bend her artistry with dramatic thrills.

"DANGEROUS DAYS"—STRAND
Outgrown, outloved! The woman he had married. Was it Clayton Spencer's fault?
Suddenly he felt sorry for her—his wife—so weak, so childish, so cowardly.

Exquisite, faultless, from the lovely mask that was her face to the graceful slim-shod feet. But frivolous, insincere—the woman with whom he was to spend the rest of his life!
And Audrey, brave, generous, deeply unhappy—Audrey with her indelible appeal to the best that was in him—every mental path somehow led to her. Audrey, tired, terribly alone, needing him.

Where had he come? Where was he going? Clayton Spencer, strong, proud of his integrity, so fine in his impulses, what would he do?

Mary Roberts Rinehart carries us irresistibly on in her vivid picture of modern married life—a Goldwyn-Barnum Authors Picture produced by that sterling director, Reginald Barker.

"Dangerous Days," powerfully portrays the most absorbing problem of married life today. The wife he had outgrown! The woman of deeper understanding, who crept, fight it though they did, into his empty life. The strongest craving of his life. How would he meet it?

You may see "Dangerous Days" at the Strand today and Saturday.

Ventilation
If for any reason sufficient ventilation by means of windows and doors is impossible, a pitcher of cold water placed on a table in the center of the room will absorb many of the impurities. This is sometimes useful in the sick room. The water should be allowed to stand not more than an hour.

The WEIR Extra-Heat Radiator Does Save Coal

IN the ordinary warm air furnace a very large per cent of the heat generated from burning fuel goes up the chimney simply because no arrangement has been made on the furnace to absorb the heat.

The illustration shows how the products of combustion leave the main furnace and travel thru the WEIR extra-heat drum which absorbs these heat units which ordinarily pass out the chimney and are wasted. The radiating surface of this auxiliary drum is as large as some furnaces. Thus it will be seen that the WEIR is in reality two furnaces in one and that this arrangement alone will save coal.

Many users of WEIR furnaces report that the WEIR consumes 25% to 35% less coal than other furnaces they have used, so it will take a very few years for a WEIR to pay for itself in fuel saved.

All the heat saved by the WEIR extra-heat radiator is your reward for having a WEIR in your home.

Intense Rivalry of Colored Teams Decided Saturday

The intense rivalry existing between the two colored ball clubs, the Union Giants and the Illinois Giants, will be decided Saturday when the two teams will meet at the old League park, directly behind the fair grounds. The game will be called at 6:15, city time.

This game was arranged at the request of many fans who have seen both teams in action against the local ball clubs and are anxious to decide arguments as to the relative strength of the two colored aggregations. It is quite likely that the game will furnish considerable excitement for the spectators and almost anything, up to a display of razors, may be expected when the two teams from Darktown get together.

The League park field will be roped off for this game and 1,150 chairs have been secured to accommodate the spectators.

HOME RUNS ARE PLENTIFUL IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

NEW YORK—With nearly one-third of the season yet to be played, National league sluggers already have rolled up 102 more home runs than they made during the entire season of 1920. The four homers cracked out yesterday by Kelly and Bancroft of the New York Giants and Gibson and J. Scott of the Boston Braves, brought the total to date up to 363. Last year's total for the entire season was 261. The American leaguers, despite the services of Babe Ruth, are trailing the nationals by one circuit clout, with a total to date of 362. The American total last season was 365.

UNFAIR

An age limit for fighters, such as has been set by New York, is wrong. In sport a man is okay as long as he delivers the goods in his line. New York's purpose, no doubt, was to put up the bars to Jack Johnson. The age limit set was 38. The negro has passed that mark. So has Jess Willard. The fair method would be to bar fighters who are not in condition. That's where the shoe pinches.

EGAN TO TRY FOR NATIONAL AMATEUR GOLF TITLE AGAIN

CHICAGO—H. Chandler Egan, twice national amateur golf champion and four times winner of the western title, is planning to try for the crown again at St. Louis next month, according to a letter received here. Egan, who removed to Oregon several years ago, has not taken part in national championships since going west, except in coast meets.

Egan wrote that he intended to bring eight coast golfers east with him to compete in team matches, if they could be arranged before the national amateur meet at the St. Louis country club, beginning, Sept. 17. This would be the first real invasion of coast golfers, who heretofore have been deterred by distance.

Egan was the premier golfer for several years.

ELKS WILL GIVE AN EXCURSION ON THE RIVER

La Crosse Elks, who today held their circus day in the city, will again be municipal hosts next Wednesday when the annual Elks' river outing will be held. The local "Bibs" have chartered the steamer Capitol of the Streckfus steamboat line for Wednesday, August 24, and will entertain at a moonlight dancing trip which will be open to the public at large.

The Capitol is now on its last voyage to the far north before going to New Orleans in September for the winter months. Two trips will be held from La Crosse on Wednesday. An afternoon trip down the river will start at 2 p. m. and the boat will return at 7. For this trip all admission prices to the boat have been cut by twenty-five cents. This is the first time this season that the Capitol has held a cut-rate excursion from La Crosse. In order that the school children might have one more big day on the river before going back to their studies, the Streckfus officials have reduced the fare to the minimum for the day trip.

Dancing will feature the Elks' evening trip. The colossal rainbow dancing pavilion will be open throughout the day and night and the Ten Capitol Harmony Syncopaters will play. The syncopaters come here with two new members in the persons of "Sax" Webb, former Davenport Coliseum saxophonist, and Vic Sells, cornetist for Hellings Harmony Bands of St. Louis. These bands are playing with the Capitol band during the off season of their own orchestras. The Elks' trip will presage the end of the excursion season in so far as the Capitol is concerned. The big stern wheeler will probably make but one more visit here this season after Wednesday.

E. G. Von Wald, Bert Jolivet and William Meyers are in charge of the Elks' trip here.

Why We Say "She"
The discussion being on why we refer to an automobile as "she," one man said it was because when a car is slicked up and attractive we all admire her; when she acts properly she is charming; yet we often drive her into improper action by lack of care, and when she gets old and has lost her style we try to discard her and get a more pleasing one.—Boston Transcript.

One quart of Hoeschler's Egg Keeper will make enough solution to preserve 12 to 14 dozen eggs and only cost 30c. Bring in your own bottle and get it for a quarter. Special price in larger quantity. Full directions and special instructions on every bottle. Remember that you must get fresh eggs, not old nor stale, as nothing will make a spoiled egg fresh. ## COAST AUTHORITIES STICK TO THEORY OF KENNEDY'S MURDER

Declare Case Against Madalynne and Burch is too Strong to be Disregarded

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Malcolm McLaren, chief investigator for the district attorney's office late Thursday night commented on Ralph J. Obenech's statement that the man who killed J. Edgar Kennedy here August 5 would be in jail by Sunday.

Mr. McLaren said that he would act on any evidence warranting another arrest and that the only desire of officials was to see the slayer of Kennedy arrested and convicted.

"But," he added, "any theory of the case must provide for Arthur C. Burch and Mrs. Madalynne Obenech, now accused. The facts show too strong a case against them to be disregarded."

Coinciding with this statement it was announced by Deputy District Attorney Keyes that the prosecution had examined two new witnesses late on Thursday and added that the case against the two prisoners, recently indicted, was "becoming stronger every day."

Mr. McLaren said this morning that while his officers had been working on the case of an automobile stolen on the night of the murder, later recovered at Santa Monica he considered the automobile and the thief for whom investigators sent out advance instructions along the Salt Lake railroad asking apprehension, had been eliminated as a pertinent factor in the case.

It was thought Thursday the man might have been one of the two "foreigners" whom Mrs. Obenech told authorities had brushed by her in the Beverly Glen shortly after the shooting of her fiance.

HORSE'S FEELINGS HURT WHEN CAR BROKE ITS WOODEN LEG—OWNER ASKS $10,000 FROM MOTORIST

HAMMOND, Ind.—Jacob Diamond, a peddler, Friday filed suit in superior court for $10,000 damages against an autoist who ran into Diamond's three legged horse and broke its wooden leg. The suit alleges the animal was bruised and humiliated to that extent.

The horse which has worn the wooden leg for five years has had a troubled career. On one occasion the leg caught fire and the fire department was called to extinguish the blaze.

HURLEY SALOONISTS ATTACK VALIDITY OF BAID WARRANTS

Declare Warrants Not Properly Returned; Judge Luse Takes Case Under Advisement

SUPERIOR, Wis.—The fate of fifty-seven Hurley saloonkeepers taken in the famous federal dry agents' invasion of last December 28, rests on a legal battle over the regularity of the search warrants, taken under advisement by Federal Judge Luse at noon Thursday, attorneys announced.

Major J. A. O'Neil of Ironwood, Mich., and Attorney John A. Cadigan of Superior in the cases of the only three saloonkeepers yet indicted, asked the court to return the evidence seized in the raids and quash the indictments.

The three are test cases. The defense attorneys said that returns on the search warrants were not made until April 15, while the law requires they be made within ten days. "Little children running wild about the country searching houses indiscriminately," is the way O'Neil described the sixty dry agents from Chicago who rode in two special Pullmans to Hurley and searched the town.

Assistant District Attorney Murlberger defended the indictments. Attorneys have until September 17 to submit briefs, Judge Luse ruled.

BIG FILING CASE STOLEN FROM LIEB STORE RECOVERED

Cabinet is Found in Cornfield
Near Grand Crossing; Con-

The filing case, stolen from the grocery store of John Lieb, 1641 George street, Wednesday night, was found Thursday night in the cornfield of Jack Picha, near Grand Crossing. Mr. Picha found the case when he went to work in his field.

The restoration of the filing case to the store relieves the store's bookkeeper of considerable worry and extra work, according to Mrs. Lieb, Friday morning. Customers had been asked to bring their slips to the store, to straighten out their accounts and this was done Thursday. Mrs. Lieb also wishes to thank patrons of the store for their patience and assistance.

The filing case, which weighs 200 pounds and looks something like a safe was broken open but the contents were left intact, Mrs. Lieb said. There was no money in the filing case. Apparently nothing else was disturbed in the store by the burglars, except the filing case.

Mr. Lieb is at Lake Chetek on a fishing trip and Mrs. Lieb has just returned from a trip to Norway. She says the robbery afforded more excitement than the trip "across the pond."

WET ENGLAND BUYS WATER!

Think of buying water at three cents a gallon—and in wet England at that! A drought that lasted eighty-six days brought out the water peddlers. This picture shows a peddler selling water, brought from valleys four miles away, to women of Stokenchurch in the Chiltern Hills.

THIS WILL WORRY TRAFFIC COPS

This car rambled through the streets of Dayton, Ohio, without a driver. But it halted when the traffic cops held up their hands. And it started and turned corners when ordered. It was controlled by radio. Captain R. E. Vaughn of the army radio service directed it from the auto in the rear. Such a car controlled by radio and loaded with explosive could be sent across No Man's Land and timed to explode at the enemy's trench.

$250,000

Automobile stock of the La Crosse Automobile Trade Association combined together in the Market Square, La Crosse, Wisconsin, in the Greatest Automobile Bargain Carnival ever attempted in this state. SATURDAY will witness an Automobile Buying Stampede without a parallel in the history of Automobile selling. Any terms in reason will buy any car shown.

Ford $150

Buick $290

Overland $525

Hudson $1135

Stearns $1200

Every Car Was Renewed with the intention to sell for scores and hundreds of dollars more than prices shown.

It has taken us many weeks and, in fact months, to prepare this stock for this sale. We spared no expense in labor or material. New car reductions, coming just when they did, automatically cut the prices of these cars at least two to four hundred dollars each. But we are like all merchants and must take some losses in this readjustment period and we are determined to take ours all at once and be done with it. Therefore this greatest of all renewed automobile carnivals.
